

Handout a sheet to each student ask them to think about people they trust. Ask them to put them on the circle in three categories. 1 The center of the circle are those closest to you. the next circle are people whp make you feel safe. The last circle are for people that you can go for help.

Explain that: Like a circle people have a different role in your life some who are really trusted like a parent. But there are people we know who can help in times of trouble like a police officer or friend.

Circle of Trust:
